will present

“James McNeill Whistler and the Art of Watercolor”

Artist and art historian Leigh Culver will present to BWS, an evening with Whistler, which is a reprise of her 2019 talk at the Freer Gallery of Art during the “Whistler in Watercolor” exhibition. Leigh will discuss Whistler’s public art and the scandals surrounding his most well-known works. Explaining Whistler’s decision to turn to watercolor, Leigh will introduce us to what Whistler called his “lovely little games” in light of the history of watercolor practices.

Peter will then demo a painting in the style of Whistler, using the pigments and papers Whistler used. Leigh and Peter, together, will share insights about Whistler’s techniques and the history of the watercolor medium. Please join us!
